Published under provisions of the Act of the State Assembly approved April 13, 1899, a record of the Pennsylvania Volunteers who served in the Spanish-American War. Dr. S. Franklin Logsdon, Bible teacher and evangelist, says of this book: "These principles of Bible study by Dr. J. Edwin Hartill have been tested and proved in his own personal teaching for many years. They are succinct, pointed, practical, original, understandable -- simple keys to unlock the storehouse of Scripture to things both old and new. This publication makes a distinct contribution to Bible lovers in their search for increased knowledge of divine truth. It is a privilege and an honor to commend it to God's people." Using a graphic combination of text, charts, and outlines, Dr. Hartill states, "I trust that as you study these principles, your understanding of the Word and your love for its truth may deepen, so that you may more ably pass it on to others." Accompanied by a study guide for group discussions, an illuminating guide dispels common misconceptions about ministry by drawing from personal experiences and real-life examples to help readers identify and comprehend God's call and integrate it into their everyday lives. Original. Poetry. Ken Waldman's AS THE WORLD BURNS is the sixth collection from this Alaska poet who is also a touring musician. "A hugely ambitious book, containing over 60 mostly Petrarchan sonnets. Waldman imagines himself in George W's head and goes from there. Scary stuff! It is a rare but great thing to see a contemporary poet working in the satirical tradition of Dryden, Pope, and Swift....AS THE WORLD BURNS is more than a poetic protest against the way the world is going; although it is that too. It achieves the almost impossible by forcing the reader to come to terms with George W. Bush, the three dimensional human being"--Nth Position. "Strongly recommended reading in this current political season"--Midwest Book Review. "My guess is that all those folks on the Left will need all the help they can get making it through the next two years, and Waldman's humor, on the page and in audio form, will be welcomed medicine"--Sing Out! Issues for 1860, 1866-67, 1869, 1872 include directories of Covington and Newport, Kentucky. Poetry. IN THE SHADOW OF A BURNING BUSH follows Azriel's poetic commentary on Genesis, Threads from a Coat of Many Colors, with an even more powerful commentary on Exodus. It is, simultaneously, a retelling of the Exodus story, a reliving of Jewish history, and an expression of contemporary Jewish experience. Drawing on his extensive knowledge of the Torah and the rabbinic texts, Azriel illustrates the story of Moses and the Exodus in a series of inspired poems, approaching its themes with a mastery of poetic forms -- from sonnet to free verse -- and a brilliant visual and auditory imagination. He links many aspects of the biblical account with later episodes in Jewish history, such as the Holocaust. Azriel writes with the kind of authority rarely found among modern poets. Narrates the story of how fire came to Australia and how the aborigines used it to remake their environment. Historical papers are prefixed to several issues. For undergraduate marketing research courses. The "nuts and bolts" of marketing research. Marketing Research gives students a "nuts and bolts" understanding of marketing research and provides them with extensive information on how to use it. Written at a level first-time marketing research students can understand, this text provides the fundamentals of the statistical procedures used to analyze data without dwelling on the more complex and intricate concepts. The sixth edition now includes new case ideas contributed from innovative professors, updated insight from industry professionals, and current information on how marketing research is being practiced today

The long, arduous journey of Rev. William Lowery Sr. began when he was just six years old. In the front pew of Meade Chapel, he watched the musicians tune up and the pastor prepare for the morning service. "When I grow up, I'm going to be just like Pastor John Shafer," he thought. This autobiography follows the life of Rev. Lowery, sowing of his wild oats, reconciliation, and his ministry. A historical survey of antisemitism as a problem integral to the evolution of nationhood throughout the ages. Contends that the Jew has always been the scapegoat for authoritarian rulers and regimes, and that the post-1945 period indicates a radical revision in this respect. Surveys antisemitism from the Crucifixion through the Middle Ages, but the major part of the book (pp. 119-457) deals with the 19th-20th centuries, particularly the pogroms in Russia; the racist views of Wagner, Stöcker, Gobineau, etc.; the Dreyfus Affair; "The Protocols of the Elders of Zion"; and the Holocaust. Even more significant for Christianity in the long run than the twentieth-century Dead Sea and Nag Hammadi discoveries is the growing North American awareness of Rudolf Steiner's works. Virtually unavailable until the end of the twentieth century, English translations from the German archives are gradually coming into print. Both Steiner and his works have thus far been virtually unknown in traditional theological circles. No Bible commentary has yet reflected the remarkable spiritual insights of Anthroposophy. Now, ten years after first encountering a written comment about Rudolf Steiner, Ed Smith combines his own extensive traditional biblical knowledge with his years of concentrated study and reflection on hundreds of assembled works by Steiner. The result is the first Bible commentary in the light of anthroposophic insight. This is the first volume of a series of Bible commentary by the author. It is based on the

"anthroposophic" understanding given to humanity by Rudolf Steiner during the first quarter of the twentieth century. Bible commentaries have always reflected the general line of thinking of their authors. However, the dramatic newness of anthroposophic thought means that perhaps the usual method of using a Bible commentary is not appropriate here. A large part of The Burning Bush is necessarily devoted to laying an anthroposophic, or spiritual-scientific, groundwork. A major assumption indulged in most Bible commentaries--that one can go directly to portions dealing with given passages of scripture and understand what is being said about them--does not fit. In these sometimes strange, funny, tragic and truthful stories, Cherie Jones weaves paths through the joys and suffering of women's lives. The writing occupies an in-between space between the magical and the realistic, exploring the tensions between the African folk wisdom Nanan passes on from the ancestors to her grand-daughter, and the colonised dictums that the mother in 'The Bride' offers her daughter about how a respectable woman lives. It is believed these magical books were translated from the ancient Hebrew. The Sixth Book contains Secret Seals used in magical rituals. Each is presented, followed by a matching conjurationa verbal spell summoning entities or energies beyond our reality that may respond and help to achieve the goal of the summoner. The Seventh Book contains magical tables, each of which performs a certain function. Carrying one with you or to a certain area may bring results like wealth, love, or good luck. Also included are examples of magic being performed in the Bible, followed by a Kabala section that reveals secret wisdom, the application of charms and remedies, and magical cures of the ancient Hebrews. If used with good intentions, this book claims to bring good fortune. Terry Allen Moe came as pastor to Redeemer Lutheran, a traditional, working-class congregation in a poorer, mixed-race neighborhood in Portland, Oregon, in 1981. Five US presidents, six Portland mayors, and four Lutheran bishops later, Redeemer had been transformed into an innovative, spiritual-not-religious, member-based nonprofit called Leaven Community, and a new ELCA congregation--Salt and Light Lutheran--nested in the midst of Leaven. This is the story of how an intertwining of spirituality and organizing transformed a pastor and congregation. Using the metaphor of paying attention to the voice of God in the burning bush (Exodus 3), Moe describes how he and the congregation turned to the burning bush of deepened spirituality coupled with hard-nosed organizing embodied in the IAF network. The process was not easy or smooth, but the pastor and people changed, and together they impacted the larger Portland community. This is the story of listening, discerning, acting, and evaluating to address the upstream causes of pressing issues and of identifying and lifting up the public dimensions of people's pain. This is the story of prayer circles that addressed societal challenges contributing to people's private struggles. This is the story of unearthing and confronting the impacts of political decisions, overcoming the mentality that "church and politics don't mix." Sunday worship shifted to include the stories of addiction, job loss, rising energy costs, and ecological grieving from the members and their neighbors. This book demonstrates how the power of spiritual discernment and community organizing can transform a community of faith. It's timely inspiration for congregations struggling to find their way out of decline and the immobilization caused by fear and lack of creative leadership.

Volume 15: Supplement and General Index, chronicles the postwar operations of the U.S. Navy in the Pacific: the surrender of outlying Japanese garrisons, the occupation of Japan, minesweeping approaches to Japanese ports, and Operation Magic Carpet for the return of armed forces to the United States. This volume features a descriptive list of all named ships of the U.S. Navy during World War II, all types of landing, beaching, and other "lettered" craft, and types of aircraft used by the navy during the war. It also includes a list of errata and a general index to volumes 1-14. If one is looking for answers to the meaning of life and how to make a happier, richer existence (e.g., relationships, finances, health), then Nevilles teaching from personal experience, testimonies from students, and his amazing visions paralleling and explaining the mysteries of the Old and New Testament will answer those questions. Learn his techniques, unleash your power to create, believe in your imaginary acts, and no power in this world can stop the desired results from appearing in your world. Its the only creative power, one that everyone is operating moment to moment. Learning how to direct it deliberately is essential to producing loving, positive changes in ones life. These 1963 lectures also begin a nine-year odyssey of discovering the deepest meanings of six visions of the end that had unfolded in Neville (1959-1963). The visions are the signs that this long journey as limited man; the terrible opacity and contraction is over, that the purpose of human life has been completed; man has endured and overcome six thousand years of amnesia plus the fires of experience and has emerged victorious. Hes been transformed by his inner being (I Am or God) back into the divinity he truly is and always was.
